

88 REPENT

BODHI NEON • SOUNDTRACK LYRICS

In every world,
In every age,
The Blessed Buddhas
Still remain.

O Bhagavans,
Remember me;
Turn Your compassion,
towards me.

From this life,
From lives before,
Through saṃsāra,
Evermore—

Every wrong
That I have done,
Done myself,
Or urged on someone;

Done by others,
Yet approved,
Smiled upon,
Or gladly viewed.

What was taken
From stūpa or shrine,
From the Saṅgha,
Not mine but made mine;

Taken by hand,
Taken through another,
Or praised in the deeds
Of sister and brother.

The darkest deeds,
The harmful ways,
The ten unwholesome,
Clouded days;

Done ourselves,
Or urged along,
Or celebrated
As not wrong.

All these deeds,
These karmic chains,
Hidden faults
And open stains;

Leading downward—
Hells of fire,
Pretas burning
With desire,

Animal births,
And realms of pain—
All these faults
I now proclaim.

Before the Buddhas I repent.
With all my heart, I now relent.

O Bhagavans, Bear witness here;
Hold me now In mindful care.
Before all Buddhas I declare:

Whatever gifts That I have shared,
Whatever precepts That I have kept,
Even one crumb Given in kindness,
Even one act Of wakeful mindfulness;

All these roots Of goodness and light,
I dedicate This very night

To Anuttara Samyaksambodhi—
Perfect Awakening, Great and holy.

All my wrongs I now confess.
In every virtue I rejoice.

Lead all beings To Awakening.
Lead all beings To Awakening.
Lead all beings To Awakening.
