VERSE 1

They told me it was written in the stars
Locked in a cage of all my yesterday's scars
Like a script that was finished before I began
Just an N-P-C stuck in a master plan
But I'm looking at the sun, and the rain on the pane
It's not just an echo of some ancient chain
There's a shift in the wind, a turn in the tide
And the power to change is waiting inside.

PRE-CHORUS

It's not just the past reaching out from the grave
It's not just the hand that the universe gave
The rhythm is shifting, the beat's getting clear
I can break the static, I can shift the gear.

CHORUS

Oh, I'm rewriting the lines, I'm changing the flow
It's not written in stone, it's a seed that I grow
Life isn't fated, it's not set in the gray
I'm owning the moment, I'm choosing the way-ay-ay-ay

VERSE 2

The body can stumble, the mind might drift
But I'm learning the art of the intentional lift
It's the breath that I take, it's the thought that I steer
The noise of the world is beginning to clear
I don't blame the shadows for blocking my view
I'm lighting a candle to start something new
Every second's a door, every choice is a key
Unlocking the door and walking out to see.

BRIDGE

It's a mix of the seasons, the sun and the chill
But my heart is the captain, my heart has the will
No destiny will bind me to the floor
I'm standing up tall, I'm asking for more.

CHORUS

Oh, I'm rewriting the lines, I'm changing the flow
It's not written in stone, it's a seed that I grow
Life isn't fated, it's not set in the gray
I'm owning the moment, I'm choosing the way-ay-ay-ay

OUTRO

Not fated, just started.
Not finished, just started.
In the now, I am free.
In the now, I am me.
